

STUDENT HANDOUT

FEAR OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

About This 21-Day Challenge

Welcome to the Public Speaking 21-Day Challenge!

Public speaking can feel scary, but with step-by-step practice, powerful techniques, and fun activities, you will learn how to:

- Control stage fright (calm your Fear Monster)
- Build confidence with body language and gestures
- Write and present your own speech
- Inspire others with your words

By the end of this challenge, you will not only be able to speak confidently in front of people, but you will also create and present a 1–2 minute speech on the topic:

"If I Could Change One Thing in the World..."

“ SPEECH IS POWER: SPEECH IS TO PERSUADE, TO CONVERT, TO COMPEL. ”

–Ralph Waldo Emerson

What We Are Doing?

Here's how your 21 days will look:

CALENDER

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

Fear of Public Speaking

Have you ever felt your heart racing, your hands sweating, or your voice shaking when you speak in front of others? That's called stage fright – and it's completely normal! Even the best speakers in the world feel it.

But here's the good news: with the right guidance and daily practice, you can beat the fear, build your confidence, and become a speaker who inspires others.

This course will help you:

- Learn to write a speech step by step (Intro, Hook, Body, Conclusion).
- Improve your presentation skills (body language, gestures, voice).
- Record your progress daily and see your transformation on Day 21.

WEEK 1

Write Introduction + Hook

Introduction

The introduction is where you greet the audience and tell them what your speech is about.

How to Write it:

- Greeting: "Good morning everyone!"
- Your Name: "My name is..."
- Topic: "Today I will talk about..."
- Connect: "I chose this because..."

Tips:

- Keep it short (2–3 sentences).
- Smile while speaking — it makes you confident and friendly.

Write your Introduction:

Hook

The hook grabs attention and makes people want to listen.

Ways to write a hook:

Ask a Question

- A question makes the audience curious. They start thinking of their own answer, so they pay more attention to you.
- Example: What if you could change the world with one idea?

Fact/Statistic

- Facts and numbers surprise people and show that your topic is real and important.
- Example: Did you know that millions of children don't go to school?

Tell a Short Story

- A story pulls people in. They imagine the scene and want to know what happens next.
- Example: When I was walking home, I saw a stray dog looking for food...

Tips for Your Hook:

- Make sure it is connected to your topic.
- Say it with energy, confidence, and a smile.
- Keep it short and clear (1–2 sentences).

Write the Hook:

Presentation Skills:

Breathing, smiling, positive self-talk, pauses

Today is Day 1 — you might not be perfect yet, but that's exactly how every great journey begins. Each step you take will make you stronger and better.

Presentation Skills:

Day 1 : Record your starting video ("Hello, my name is...").

Day 2 : Practice deep breathing + say your greeting.

Day 3 : Write your introduction (greeting + name + topic).

Day 4 : Add a smile while speaking.

The image features two cartoon penguins, one at the top right and one at the bottom left, both jumping over a large, wavy ribbon. The ribbon is orange with a black outline and is decorated with black dots. The penguins are blue and white with orange beaks and feet. The background is white, and there is a solid orange bar at the bottom.

Congratulations you have reached Day 5. You're growing, improving, and proving to yourself what's possible.

Presentation Skills:

Day 5 : Write 2–3 hooks
(question, fact, story).

Day 6: Practice using pauses in your hook.

Day 7 : Record your Introduction + Hook.

Kudos! You've taken the bravest step by starting, and that already sets you apart!

OBSERVATION TABLE

Skill	Stars
Clear Introduction (greeting, name, topic)	★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Hook grabs attention	★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Smile & Positivity	★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Used pauses well	★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The Secret Superpowers of a Speaker

When you give a speech, your body speaks too. The way you stand, move, and look at people makes a big difference. Let's learn the key skills:

Hand Gestures

Your hands can make your speech more powerful. Use them to show meaning.

- Spread your hands – to show something big.
- Point to yourself – when talking about “I” or “me.”
- Count on fingers – when listing points (one, two, three).
- Raise a hand – to show strength or importance.

Tip

Don't fidget (play with clothes, tap fingers). Use clear, simple gestures that match your words.

Body Language

How you stand and move shows your confidence.

- Stand tall – feet apart, shoulders straight.
- Don't slouch or cross arms – it looks shy or closed.
- Open arms – makes you look friendly.
- Move slowly – a step or two forward/back is fine, but don't pace nervously.

Tip

Imagine you are a superhero standing strong – your body will feel confident!

Eye Contact

Looking at people shows you are confident and connected.

- Find one friendly face – a parent, friend, or teacher who is smiling. Speak as if you're talking to them.
- Scan slowly – after a while, look at another person, then another.
- Don't look at the ceiling, floor, or only at your paper.

Tip

If you feel scared, just keep looking at one friendly face – it makes the audience feel you are speaking to them directly.

Smile

A smile is your secret weapon.

- It makes you look confident.
- It relaxes you.
- It makes the audience like you.

Tip

Start and end your speech with a smile
— it leaves a positive impression.

Practice Challenge

1. Stand in front of a mirror.
2. Say: "Good morning, my name is ___" with:
 - A smile
 - One hand gesture
 - Standing tall
 - Looking at your reflection (eye contact).
3. Record yourself and check: Did your body look confident?

WEEK 2

Write the Body

Body

This is the main part of your speech. It explains your idea.

How to write it:

- Point 1: Why this topic is important (“Education is important because...”).
- Point 2: How it affects people (“Without education, children struggle to...”).
- Point 3: What can be done (“We can help by...”).

Tips :

- Keep your sentences short.
- Use examples or small stories to make it interesting.
- Add gestures (spread hands, nod, point to self).

Write the Body of your Speech:

Presentation Skills:

Posture, gestures, voice clarity

Day 8: Practice standing tall (posture).

Day 9: Add 1 gesture while speaking.

Day 10: Write Point 1 of your body.

Day 11: Write Point 2 of your body.

Day 12: Write Point 3 of your body.

Day 13:

Combine all 3 points into a short speech.

Day 14:

Record Intro + Hook + Body.

Day 14 is your first real stage – and you’ve earned every second of it.

OBSERVATION TABLE

Skill	Stars
Clear Body (3 points explained)	★★★★★
Body Language (standing tall, gestures)	★★★★★
Voice (clear & strong)	★★★★★
Confidence Level	★★★★★

WEEK 3

Write the Conclusion

Conclusion

This is the main part of your speech. It explains your idea.

How to write it:

- Restate your topic: Education is the key to a better future.
- End with an inspiring line: Together, we can make a change!
- Thank the audience: Thank you for listening.

Tips :

- End with a smile.
- Pause for a second before saying "Thank you."

Write the conclusion of your Speech:

[illegible]

Presentation Skills:

Focus on 1 friendly face, storytelling, pauses, ending with a smile

Day 15:

Write your conclusion (message + thank you).

Day 16:

Practice eye focus (choose one friendly face).

Day 17:

Stand in front of a mirror and read your speech

The mirror is your practice stage
— own it with confidence.

Day 18:

Add 2 gestures to your conclusion.

Day 19:

Practice pausing before your final line.

Day 20:

Rehearse full speech (Intro + Hook + Body + Conclusion).

Day 21:

Deliver your Final Speech with confidence

This is your moment — stand tall, speak proud, and own the stage!”

OBSERVATION TABLE

Skill	Stars
Clear & Inspiring Conclusion	★★★★★
Storytelling adds impact	★★★★★
Focused on 1 face in audience	★★★★★
Confident Final Delivery	★★★★★

SELF REFLECTION

Check your Days 1, 7, 14, and 21 recordings and fill the table given.

Day	Confidence (1–10)	How I Felt	What Improved
1
7
14
21			